

A story - THE SECRET TO SUCCESS

A man and woman had been married for more than 65 years and talked about almost everything except the shoe box the old woman kept in her closet that she cautioned her husband never to ask about. He respected her wishes, but one day the wife got very sick and the doctor said she would not recover. In sorting out their affairs, the little old man took down the shoebox and took it to his wife's bedside. She agreed that it was time he knew what was in it. When he opened it, he found two crocheted dolls and a stack of money.

"When we were married," his wife explained, "my grandmother told me the secret of a happy marriage was to never arise serious quarrel. She told me that if I ever got angry with you, I should just keep quiet and crochet a doll."

The husband was so moved, he had to fight back tears. Only two precious dolls were in the box. He almost burst with happiness.

"Honey," he said, "that explain the two dolls, but what about all of this money? Where did it come from?"

"Oh," she said, "that's the money I made from selling all the other dolls."
